Dear Edgar,

Thank you for your letter dated 7 January regarding fireworks.

I share Gwynedd Council's concerns regarding the impact of fireworks on vulnerable people and on animals. In November, the First Minister and I discussed the subject in the Senedd, where wide-ranging support was received in favour of improving regulations in the field.

Under the Fireworks Act 2003, UK Government Ministers are responsible for regulations on the sale and use of fireworks in Wales and England. I wrote to the UK Government to note the support of Welsh Government to the recommendations of the House of Commons Petitions Committee to improve the regulation of fireworks. Therefore, I have called on the UK Government to tighten the regulations on the sale and use of fireworks on a Great Britain level, in order to reduce the damaging impacts.

Bearing in mind that our most populated areas are so close to shops in England and that on-line shopping is so easy, I believe that everyone needs to work together across Great Britain to ensure that the fireworks available for sale to the public are quiet and are used less frequently.

I have requested a three-way meeting with Ministers who are responsible for the fireworks policy in the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy (BEIS) and the Scottish Government as soon as possible to discuss the way forward.

Yours sincerely,

Lesley Griffiths AS/MS
